

Escape Rooms of Doom

By Drew

If adventure has a detective, it must be Andrew P (Drew for short)! These survival games take place within escape rooms at the family fun center, The Grape Escape. MFTI has taken me on a couple outings so far, and I am a determined participant! In the escape rooms, you must read clues from paper, solve color-coded puzzles, and put objects in the right spots. These objectives require teamwork by using flashlights and passing information to handle combination locks. Last April, I helped solve the mystery box in Uncle Tick Tock's Circus. Then yesterday, I assisted again, this time in the Temple of Razum. Both escape rooms are made to test your wits and problem solving! First, listen to the instructions from your teacher. Ask for help only when needed.

Uncle Tick Tock's Circus had us find items in hats and put animal toys in the correct places. The Temple of Razum required us to escape from a bamboo cage, then unlock the temple door. The circus was difficult and the temple was challenging! Speaking of which, we won the circus game, but lost the temple game. Next time I visit the Grape Escape, I hope to uncage my friends and myself from the Kraken Casino!
